POLYNUCLEOTIDES

BIO-STIMULATORS

Polynucleotides are emerging as the future of regenerative injectables, recognised for their remarkable ability to rejuvenate and regenerate the skin, aid in wound healing, and provide bio-stimulating effects.

Derived from salmon DNA, polynucleotides utilise filtered, ultra-purified, and sterilised DNA fractions aimed at revitalising the skin.

These substances are crafted to stimulate fibroblasts, promote tissue repair, enhance cell turnover, increase elasticity, and encourage collagen production. Additionally, they have the capacity to alleviate inflammation and restore melanocyte activity balance (skin pigmentation), leading to a more uniform and refreshed skin tone without the volumizing effects typical of traditional dermal fillers.

POLYNUCLEOTIDES CAN EFFECTIVELY TREAT:

- Acne scars
- Skin conditions like rosacea, melasma, and hyperpigmentation
- Atrophic scars
- Alopecia and androgenic hair loss
- Deep lines and hollow wrinkles
- Skin rehydration and rejuvenation
Elastosis
- Signs of facial aging, such as sagging and fine lines
- Lumpy scars
- Boost your hair's thickness and vitality
